DEATH OF CONTRACT: SECOND EDITION: GILMORE, GRANT ...

Death of Contract has some wickedly amusing moments. In his sections on the attempts by American jurists to codify contract law in a big fat Restatement on the topic, Gilmore paints a portrait of waffling legal academics who spent thirty odd years trying to work out whether estoppel has a place in the canon of Anglo-American contract law.

The Death of Contract is a book by American law professor Grant Gilmore, written in 1974, about the history and development of the common law of contracts. Gilmore's central thesis was that the Law of Contracts, at least as it existed in the 20th-century United States was largely artificial: it was the work of a handful of scholars and judges building a system, rather than a more organic ...
