That's life for Marathon Basketball, which many people—the ones who have heard of it at all—still refer to as Marathon Oil, recalling the oil company that used to sponsor the team. Marathon is typical of the clubs that barnstorm around the country during November and December, providing the opposition in exhibition tune-ups for college teams.

Before Pierce arrived, the center was Philip Hutcheson, college basketball's alltime leading scorer, who had 4,106 points in his career, from 1986 to 1990. The usual centers of attention at Belmont games are country singers Trisha Yearwood, a Belmont alumna, or Vince Gill, a close friend of Rebel coach Rick Byrd's.

Louisville's players (64.6% from the line) work with a sports psychologist who urges them to visualize being good free throw shooters for 10 minutes a day (which presumably doesn't count against the 20 hours a week). A better solution might be to have players who are shooting less than 70% try 100 free throws a day.
